COVID-19 Addendum to Behaviour Policy – December 2020

COVID-19 (commonly known as Coronavirus) has presented a huge challenge nationally to the normal running of education and child care provision. This appendix has been prepared to explain key changes and interim measures being taken within our setting during these extraordinary times.

Status of this document

- This addendum will be updated regularly during the coming months.
- The School's Behaviour Policy is comprehensive in outlining how we expect students to behave and the sanctions that may result when the school rules are broken.
- This addendum draws particular attention to elements of the Behaviour Policy in light of the impact that the Coronavirus may have already had on members of our community and as far as possible, to enable everyone to keep healthy and safe in school while the virus remains a threat.
- This document should be read in conjunction with the Behaviour Policy and is an appendix to the main body of the School's Behaviour Policy. It will be effective from December until the setting returns to business as usual, following the COVID-19 pandemic.
- The measures that the school is taking to reduce the likelihood of infection will be outlined in detail in risk assessment documentation.

Protocols in School: Ready, Respectful, Safe

- Following the guidance for safe arrival to and departure from school.
- Students must wear masks at all times when travelling around the buildings and the school site, including to and from lunch, and in toilet areas.
- Maintaining the social distance guidance, of 2m where possible or have other measures in place (as set out by the government and adopted by the school) and wear a face covering in while moving around the school site.
- Ensuring that they apply the strict guidance on sneezing, coughing, tissues and disposal ('catch it, bin it, kill it') and avoiding touching their mouth, nose and eyes with hands.
- Adhering to the strict instructions around their 'bubble' group who they may socialise with / be close to during their time in school.
- Use of the toilets.
- Following the additional hygiene methods in place (handwashing and use of hand sanitiser).
- Moving around the school as directed by staff, including following any arrows / markers, queuing systems in the canteen, only using the stairs as directed and not entering any areas which are currently identified as 'out of bounds'.
- Sharing any equipment or other items including drinking bottles is not allowed.

Students with symptoms

- If students develop symptoms at home, they must not come to school, as it would breach Covid 19 regulations. Students should inform their parents immediately, and parents should inform the school via the absence line or info@stccg.co.uk email address.
- If students develop symptoms at school they must go outside, remain 2m from everyone else, and wait for the support of an adult.
- If students know of another student with symptoms they should tell an adult immediately.
- Students who are isolating after reporting symptoms or a positive COVID test must not return to school until given clearance to do so.

New systems

- The school has implemented an increased number of duty points and a wider ranging On Call systems to support students and staff in lessons and during break and lunch.
- Any serious behavioural incidents are reviewed and moderated by multiple members of staff, including SLT, to ensure fair and consistent application of sanctions and interventions.
- Data on daily patterns of behaviour is reviewed by Heads of Year, and members of SLT, to pre-empt issues and introduce measures to reduce them.

Use of the Pastoral Centre

- Students will still have use of the pastoral centre, but will be restricted. Bubbles will still apply, where possible.
- Wellbeing services and pastoral intervention will still be available for students with such needs.

Additional pastoral support

- Additional pastoral support is still in place, including counselling, zoom and telephone sessions with behaviour specialists, and the student voice email address so students can notify the school of problems as they arise.

Safety – Respecting the welfare of others

Behaviour that is unbecoming of a student is dealt with appropriately under ‘normal’ circumstances, however since the following types of breach of the school rules may also result in the spread of infection they may result in a student being excluded from school:

- Making physical contact with others, such as touching, hugging, linking arms will result in serious consequences.
- Fighting of any kind will result in our hardest sanctions.
- Failure to follow the instructions of a member of staff.
- Deliberate failure to comply with social distancing or other infection-reducing measures in school, including students who choose to leave their bubble.
- Deliberate failure to comply with social distancing or other infection-reducing measures on the way to and from school.
- Deliberately touching other people’s belongings.
- Chewing gum.
- Any other instances of deliberately increasing the risk of infecting others.
- Causing disruption to teaching and learning through the misuse of facemasks.
- Using a facemask to conceal identity in order to deliberately break school rules.
- Using a facemask to conceal identity in order to behave poorly in the local community.
- Coughing or spitting at or towards any other person.
- Serious sanctions still apply for serious misconduct, and while restrictions prevent detentions, isolation from lessons and exclusion from school will apply in their place.

The school has implemented a larger number of duty points, to ensure the safety of the site, and a wider-ranging On Call system to support staff and students.

Phones, mobile technology and Social Media

Phones are not to be used or seen on site. They should be switched off and put away before arrival on site. Breach of this rule will result in confiscation, and referral to the Headteacher for further sanctions.

Under no circumstances is a student to post on social media, or share in messaging apps, photos or videos that have been taken at school, taken of staff, or taken of anyone in school uniform, when in or out of school. This will in most circumstances result in exclusion, and potential police referral depending on the nature of the incident.

Students should not forward message, photos, videos, or posts, as outlined above. They should report the post, using the safety features on the app, delete the message or post, or speak to an adult at home or school. Failure to do so could result in an exclusion, and potential police referral depending on the nature of the incident.

Bullying

Bullying, in all its forms is always dealt with, however, since many members of our school community may have been seriously affected by the pandemic, any bullying linked to it will be likely to have an even greater impact on the mental wellbeing of the victim. Hence the following forms of bullying may result in exclusion from school:

- Sharing insults linked to the pandemic.
- Accusing an individual of having the virus.
- 'Joking' about the effects of the virus.
- Deliberately increasing the risk of infection to a targeted individual in any way.

Achievement and Rewards

It is important that students feel rewarded and recognised during this time. Therefore, School will follow the following procedures for this:

- Achievement Points will remain available where possible for positive attitude to learning and quality of work.
- Phone calls home will be made where praise is due.

Coming to and going from school

Students must travel directly to school, and go directly home afterwards. Congregating in public spaces is prohibited, other than queuing for a bus. Consequences for breaches of this expectations will be applied. This is a very important aspect of tackling the pandemic and all students MUST take this seriously.

Students should seek support for travelling from their Head of Year, in the event that safe travelling is proving difficult.

Use of Equipment

The sharing of equipment such as stationery, textbooks or exercise books will not be permitted. Pupils must not:

This is because it will be considered a deliberate action that puts the health and safety of the school community in jeopardy or wilfully upsets another student.

Wet break and lunch

In the case of inclement weather, students will eat their lunch in their classrooms. If there is forewarning of a wet break or lunch, students will stay in their current classrooms for the duration of the break or lunch. If the students must return to class during lunch, they should go to the classroom in which they have their next lesson.

- Students must not move between classrooms during lunch or break
